SCHOOLOGY COURSE FOR 9-12TH TEACHERS

The District Technolgy folks have created a Schoology course for all high school educators called "SVVSD High School Grades 9-12 Teachers".

This course is in your Courses in Schoology for all HS folks. Once you are inside of the course, you will find three folders:

Open the Digital Curriculum Knowledge Base folder to find useful information on district textbooks and programs.

Inside the Digital Curriculum Content folder, you will find all you need to know about Literacy and Math including links to math textbooks organized by course and Literacy is organized by grade level.

Finally, inside the Schoology/IC Grade Passback folder, you can find all you need to know about importing your grades from Schoology directly into IC.

LAPTOP HEALTH

DTS is reporting that the glass screens on many teacher laptops are breaking. They have noticed that the cause for this is often leaving papers or sticky notes inside of the lid when the laptop is closed as well as accidentally hitting the sides of the lid when the laptop is closed. The current model of MacBook Air has a glass screen (opposed to a plastic screen in previous generations). Because the screen is susceptible to breakage and damage, please be careful of storing things between the lid and the keyboard .
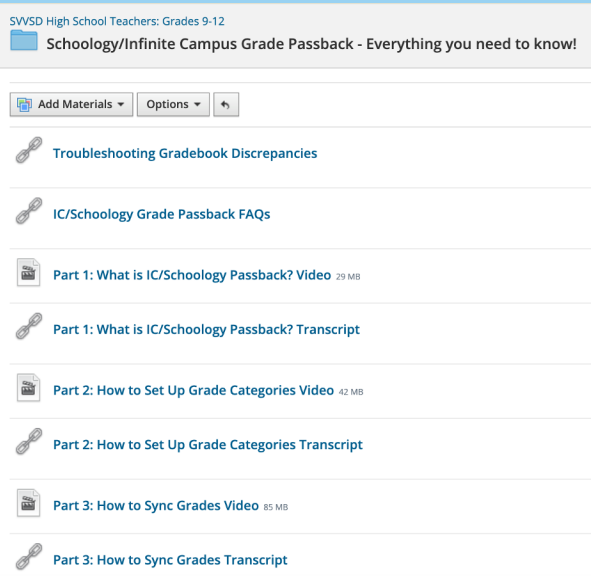

SCHOOLOGY FEATURES

Are you interested in using Rubrics to help you grade assignments in Schoology? Check out this page to help you set-up your rubric and get started.

YOUTUBE

If you, or your students , are unable to get YouTube videos to play, remember you can go to the website: override.svvsd.org. Once you go to this site, you will need to sign in with your svvsd credentials. Make sure to leave the page open and then go into YouTube.

By logging in, you will be granted 10 hours of use. You will need to do this everyday you need to access YouTube.

If you are using a laptop, Make sure that you restart everyday and you will not have to use the override procedure. Restarting your laptop daily is a good habit to get into as it helps with many daily issues that arrise.

GALE DATABASES

GALE databases are available to all SVVSD students and staff. The information that can be accessed is very powerful. There are many features that you can use while researching in Gale including creating highlights and notes from the resources obtained through the databases. See this link for more information on using the GALE databases.
